

VENERABLE LADY HAS PASSED AWAY

Sister of Gen. Wade Hampton
Passes Away at Suburban
Home of Niece.

The State, 11.
Miss Kate Hampton, 92 years of age, last surviving child of Col. Wade Hampton of the War of 1812 and sister of the late Lieut. Gen. Wade Hampton, Confederate States army, died last night at 11:50 o'clock at "Hawthood," the home of her niece, Mrs. John C. Haskell, in Edgewood, a suburb of Columbia. Her health had very gradually failed under the infirmities of her years, but the end came somewhat unexpectedly.

Dispositions for the funeral services had not been made last night, but it was said that the interment would be in Trinity church yard, Columbia. Miss Hampton's nearest relatives are nieces and nephews, the children of her late brothers, Wade Hampton and Frank Hampton. Members of the former group are McDuffie Hampton of Columbia, chairman of the South Carolina Railroad commission; Alfred Hampton of Washington and Mrs. Randolph Tucker of Virginia. Children of the late Frank Hampton are Mrs. W. C. Halstead of Baltimore, Mrs. Lucy Hampton Haskell, wife of the late Col. John C. Haskell of Columbia and Frank Hampton of Richland county. Miss Hampton's sisters, the Misses Ann Hampton and Caroline Hampton, died some years ago.

Miss Hampton was in her youth a great beauty, widely famed as a belle of the Old South, and in girlhood as well as in more advanced years she was a tireless, tactful and generous charity worker. Poor folk of Richland county who had not seen her in 50 years retain the grateful recollection of her labors in their behalf. She breathed a fine and delicate courtesy, a cordial kindness that never failed and the fragrance of her cloistered but not idle life has been for many years a potent influence for good among all those privileged to enjoy her acquaintance.

"Millwood," her father's country seat, a few miles east of Columbia, was Miss Hampton's home for many years, and even after the mansion was burned in 1865 by Sherman's men, she continued to reside nearby, occupying a small dwelling which replaced the stately home whereof nothing remained but the fire blackened columns. During the last 18 years she had lived in or near Columbia.

Miss Hampton was junior by six years to her brother, Wade Hampton, the great cavalry leader of the Confederacy, redeemer of his State from Reconstruction evils, United States senator thereafter for many years and successor to Joseph E. Johnston as commissioner of the transcontinental railroads in behalf of the federal government. Their father, Col. Wade Hampton, a great planter, won distinction in the War of 1812, and their grandfather, Gen. Wade Hampton, achieved fame as a leader of the American patriots in the War of the Revolution. Miss Hampton's mother was Ann FitzSimons Hampton.

LITTLE BRANCHES BECOME WILD RUSHING TORRENTS

Through The Mountain Sections of West Virginia Streams Rise by Leaps And Bounds—Valleys are Desolate.

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 10.—Cabin Creek, whose flood waters tore through its little mountain valley yesterday and carried with them more than two score lives and millions of dollars worth of property, today returned to its narrow bed. But for 16 miles from Ronda, where the creek empties into the Kanawha river there stretched a scene of desolation which was duplicated along every little branch coming down out of the hills.

The flood came upon the people early Wednesday morning. W. A. Smith an insurance broker of Cincinnati, who was in the district, declared that water rolled down the narrow valley, foam crested and from his point of vantage on an engine at Eskdale, where he and others had taken refuge, he saw the round house fill with ten feet of water in less than half an hour, while the flood stretched from hill to hill across the valley.

Houses were swept from their foundations and women and children hurriedly leaving their homes were in some instances drowned before they could reach the hills. The flood came in contact with the carbed supply of a moving picture theatre at Eskdale and exploded, blowing the place to pieces, while loaded coal cars were dammed one against the other in indescribable confusion.

The Cabin Creek Coal company lost 125 cars of coal at Crane Fork, the cars and coal being washed away while fifteen feet of mud and sand were deposited in their place. A street carnival company showing at Desota lost all of its equipment and animals.

OFFICERS SEIZE CARLOAD OF BEER

Fourteen Thousand Bottles Fall Into
Hands of Law—Rich Money Value.

The State.
Charleston, Aug. 11.—Chief Duncan of the State constables and a squad of his men, tipped off that a carload of beer would arrive in the city this morning, took charge of the car when it was sidetracked at the McCabe Chemical company's works early in the day and late this afternoon were still engaged in hauling the 120 barrels of unlabeled beer which the car contained and storing it in the constabulary office in Court House square. It is the largest seizure of beer ever made in Charleston county and the largest seizure of any alcoholic beverages of any consequence made by State constables since they were taken "out of the city" by orders from the governor.

The constables estimate the value of their seizure on a basis of $30 a barrel, or a total of $3,600, which is said by them to be the present retail price. The market value or wholesale price makes the seizure worth about $1,200. There are 120 bottles of beer to the barrel, a total of 14,400 bottles.

In Memoriam.

In loving memory of our mother, Margaret Elizerand Taylor, wife of Henry D. Taylor, was born June 27th, 1849 and died May 30th, 1916, making her stay here on earth 66 years, 11 months and 3 days.

She was the daughter of William Amick. She was born and reared in the Dutch Fork section of Lexington county and remained there until her death. She was married to Henry D. Taylor on January 26th, 1871, to whom there was born six children, three sons and three daughters. One daughter preceded her to the Spirit land in early life. She has fourteen grandchildren, two of them preceding her to the grave. She leaves 5 children, Mrs. J. B. Taylor, Mrs. J. B. Moore, J. W. Taylor, H. E. Taylor and W. F. Taylor; twelve grandchildren, two sisters, one brother and a host of relatives and friends to mourn her departure. May God bless her and those that are to depart. She became a member of Macedonia Lutheran Church in early life and after being married she moved her membership to St. Peter's. She has been a member of this church nearly 40 years and remained faithful until her death.

We have lost our dear mother,
She has bid us all adieu;
She has gone to live in heaven
And her form is lost to view.
Oh, that dear one, how we have loved her,
Oh, how hard to give her up,
But an angel came down for her
And removed her from our flock.
Earth has lost its look of gladness,
Heaven seems to us more bright,
Since the spirit of our dear one
Took its happy homeward flight.
And we long to cross that river,
Long to rest upon that shore;
There to see, to know and love them
With the Saviour evermore.
We miss thee from our home dear mother,
A shadow o'er our life is cast:
We miss thy kind and willing hand,
Thy fond and earnest care.
Our home is dark without thee.
We miss thee every where,
Precious mother, she has left us,
Left us for ever more.
But we hope to meet our loved one,
On that bright and happy shore.
Lonely the house and sad the hours,
Since our dear one has gone;
But oh, a brighter home than ours,
In Heaven is now her own.
Call not back the dear departed,
Anchored safe where storms are o'er,
On the border land we left her,
Soon to meet and part no more,
When we leave this world of woe,
When we leave this world of care.
We shall find our missing loved one
In our Father's mansion fair.
Farewell dear, but not forever,
There will be a glorious dawn,
We shall meet to part no never,
On the resurrection morn.
Thy darling form lies sleeping
In the cold and silent tomb,
Thou shalt have a glorious waking
When the blessed Lord hath come.
